Outputs: Discussions with other meat scientists were conducted to determine salt and phosphate levels for testing in current experiments.
Outcomes/Impacts: Meat Scientists who are presently working on enhancement of beef were contacted to find out what levels of salt and phosphates should be added to the no-rolled beef product. They suggested a 0.3% salt and 0.3% sodium tripoly-phosphate in the final product. Using these levels as guidelines, preliminary projects were conducted. Results from these preliminary projects will be used to conducting future research projects.
