Various federal, state and university policies governing the LSU AgCenter provide for equal opportunity for all qualified persons in admission to, participation in or employment in the programs and activities the LSU AgCenter operates without regard to race, creed, color, marital status, sexual orientation, religion, sex, national origin, age, mental or physical disability or veteran's status. This includes sexual harassment on the basis of sex.

Title VII requires reasonable accommodations for individual religious practices and beliefs. The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 makes it unlawful to discriminate or base employment decisions on an individual's age if the individual is 40 years or older. It also is unlawful to give preference because of age to one person over another within the protected group. The Americans with Disabilities Act is designed to remove barriers that prevent qualified individuals with disabilities from enjoying the same employment opportunities and program services that are available to persons without disabilities.

The purpose of the LSU AgCenter's violence-free workplace policy, AgCenter PS-15, is to heighten awareness of potentially violent situations in the workplace, prohibit violent behavior and take steps to reduce the potential for violent incidents. Employees, as well as volunteers, must report violent incidents to the unit head or his/her designee. Serious incidents should be reported by the unit head to the LSU AgCenter Human Resource Management Office.

By signing below you acknowledge you have read and understand the above and agree to honor the policies and procedures of the LSU AgCenter and the 4-H program. Volunteers are required to report violations they know of to their parish LSU AgCenter Agent or to the state 4-H department.
